REIC Expands its Program for Nationwide Investing

REIC Helps Clients Purchase High Quality Property at Astonishing Discounts

November 1, 2010 - REIC (www.reicglobal.com) announced today the company is offering two new powerful programs to its clients, "Strait Path Accelerated" and "Strait Path Outright" that take advantage of today's unique real estate investment opportunities.

"REIC is thrilled to offer these programs to our clients," said Steve Earl, CEO of REIC. "We are showing hundreds of families how they can harness the current economic situation to create a solid retirement, and expand their options for investing beyond the stock market."

Strait Path Accelerated allows investors to purchase deeply discounted properties in areas such as Phoenix and Las Vegas, where properties are specially qualified to have the highest possible equity, quality, and cash flow at the end of the process.

Beyond assisting customers in purchasing drastically discounted property, REIC also maintains strong relationships with property management services in the areas where clients are buying these homes. This way, REIC clients can maintain a profitable portfolio of national property with a fraction of the time and effort typically required.

Clients who participate in Strait Path Outright are presented inventory that has been pre-purchased at massive discounts, renovated and restored to rental-ready condition, with a Property Management company to place renters inside immediately.

This program is ideal for individuals wondering what to do with their 401K's and IRA's, where they are taught how to tap into these assets without fees or penalties. REIC's team of experts assist clients identify and restructure assets to produce much higher yields than traditional 401Ks and IRA's.

"One feature that makes the REIC system so powerful is we customize a unique game plan for each client, tailored to their current life situation as well as future financial goals" said Kris Krohn, REIC President and Founder. "To achieve their goals, we are committed to helping investors secure the very best real estate opportunities, and create lasting wealth for themselves and their families."

REIC holds free information seminars and webinars to further introduce the company and its investment strategies. REIC invites anyone who is interested in learning about these unique opportunities to review the latest event listing by visiting <http://www.reicgift.com/events>.
